Time to refresh: EECA's priorities in the year ahead

Priorities for 2024

Our mission: Mobilise New Zealanders to be world leaders in clean and clever energy use

Helping put the foundations in place for the national transition

- Standards and Regulations (particularly demand management)
- Renewable energy supply chains
- Workforce capability
- Access to quality technology and support for tech suppliers
- EV charging infrastructure and regulation
- Fleet electrification support

Helping businesses understand how to start and what to do

- Business advisory continues
- RETA and Sector programmes continue
- Revamp of funding for demonstration and scaling up
- Prioritisation of insights
- New work helping businesses respond to RMA National Direction

Support for individuals and communities

- GenLess: information and resources continues
- Warmer Kiwi Homes programme continues

The current opportunity:
Where should businesses focus in 2024?

Where should business focus?

Government has reiterated commitment to Paris targets and that business is expected to play its part.

International markets, and increasingly local consumers are still expecting action.

Plan, optimise, innovate

- Understand your energy use and carbon emissions
- Have a plan that is detailed, integrated and strategic
- Energy efficiency first to unlock financially viable opportunities
- Every project is an opportunity – strategic asset management
- Innovate, as yesterday's innovation is today's BAU
- Engage with information including EECA insights and business to business learning
- Commission an expert
- National Direction on industrial greenhouse gas emissions - fossil fuel combustion >500t CO₂ p,a

How can EECA help today?

- Energy Transition Programme – supporting business, regions and sectors to decarbonise
- Regional ETA – useful insights for all types of businesses
- Sector Decarbonisation Programme – sector specific tools and resources for medium to small business
- Account Management support for large businesses and SMEs with valuable projects
- Technology Demonstration Fund – technology innovation is a key priority
- Co-funding support for identification and optimisation
- Low emissions transport programmes
- Insights and case studies
- Resources available through our industry partners and their members
